KNOW THE TRUTH

Lesson 12 - The Church (2 of 2)
Outline is drawn from pages 307-338 of Know the Truth - A Handbook of Christian Belief by Bruce Milne.

KEY CONCEPTS FROM CHAPTER 25 - "THE LIFE OF THE CHURCH"

The	e W	ord of God
		pository preaching
	1.	"The public exposition of in the power of the Spirit has had, and continues to have, incalculable significance for the birthing, renewal and growth of the people of God." (Milne, 307-308)
	2.	Why has the importance of preaching been in our day?
	3.	"The Scriptures bear consistent witness to the importance of preaching for God's with individuals and communities." (Milne, 308)
		a) The office of prophet in the OT
		b) "With the arrival of Jesus, 'in the fullness of time', retains its central position" (Milne, 309) <ul><li>(1) John the came preaching</li><li>(2) " burst upon the world as a preacher: 'After John</li></ul> was put in prison Jesus went into Galilee, proclaiming the good news of God' (Mark 1:14)." (Milne, 309)
		(a) "His justification of this ministry was on identical grounds: 'The Spirit of the Lord is on me because he has anointed me to preach' (Luke 4:18)." (Milne, 309)
		(3) "The not surprisingly reflect the same ministry priority. Indeed, they consciously shun other legitimate forms of service in order to fulfil it: 'It would not be right for us to neglect the ministry of the word of God to serve tables' (Acts 6:4)." (Milne, 309)
		(4) " in his ministry refers to the commission the risen Lord had given him 'not to baptize but to preach the gospel' (1 Cor.
	1	"There are two related justifications of this high view of ¬,	preaching in Scripture." (Milne, 309)
		a) "First, it arises from our condition as sinners." (Milne, 309)
		b) "Secondly, the verbal proclamation of the Word of God, when assisted by the Holy Spirit, has a unique divine authority, echoing at a secondary but nonetheless proper level the ancient prophets' regular claim, 'Thus says the Lord.'" (Milne, 310)
	5.	"What are the characteristics of such preaching? We can mention five of the most fundamental." (Milne, 310)
		a) ": it must base itself for its truth and authority on the words of Scripture. It must faithfully explain the biblical texts and passages so handled.
		b): it must be delivered with a proper sense of its utter weakness, and hence in entire, irreducible and unending dependence upon God the Holy Spirit, to enable the miracle of its God-revealing, life-impacting character to be manifest.
		c): it must be authentically rooted in the life of the listening congregation, and exercised with as accurate an awareness as دا/	may be achieved of the contiguous realities of universal human nature, the immediately surrounding culture(s) and the preacher's own self-hood.

		a)	: the message needs to answer the listeners'
			unspoken questions about how to relate its truth to their spiritual situation
		,	and their everyday lives, at all levels.
		e)	: it should reflect the preacher's conviction of speaking on behalf of God, with the deep earnestness and sincerity appropriate to that conviction." (Milne, 310-311)
В.		ersonal study of scripture
	١.		"To be a man or woman of God involves being a man or woman of the Word f God. The of daily Bible study is therefore an obvious ınd God-owned means of spiritual growth." (Milne, 311)
	2.		s well as innumerable blessings, there are also dangers in this practice:
		a)	a) for example, an almost superstitious, 'horoscope' attitude can develop whereby the portion to be studied each day is detached from its biblical context and forced to yield some hidden, special message relevant to the reader's immediate situation." (Milne, 311)
		b)	"We also need to beware of developing a legalistic attitude whereby we presume to earn God's blessing because we have fulfilled our daily devotional obligations, or of becoming burdened with a sense of guilt and the feeling that 'today is bound to go wrong' if we miss our Bible study time." (Milne, 311)
C. Group study of scripture
	1.		'e find group Bible study in the NT (Acts 17:11). It has rtainly been a factor in the church's renewal, particularly during periods
	_		en public preaching has been forbidden or has declined." (Milne, 311)
	2.		also has its:
			"It needs good leadership
			and the suppressing of the tendency to digress,
			to air personal opinions,
		a)	or to exchange testimonies which have no clear anchor in the passage of
		,	Scripture being studied.
		e)	If these dangers are recognized and avoided, group Bible study is without _		question a genuine means of grace." (Milne, 311)
			uments
Α.			uctory Remarks
	١.		acrament' (Lat. sacramentum) may be simply defined as 'an outward and VISI	ble of an inward and invisible grace' (Catechism of
	_	the	e Church of England)." (Milne, 312)
			we limit the term to those ordinances instituted by Christ, there are only †W	o: and the ('the bath and the bread' as Luther denoted them)." (Milne, 312) "Some see this confirmed by the two OT ordinances, circumcision and the 3.
_			ssover."
В.	"A 1.	sac	crament has three principal elements:
		Ine	e sign is represented by the water of baptism and the
	0	Dre	ead and wine of the Lord's Supper.
	۷.	me	e grace is that to which the sacrament points and,
		1 1 11	# 1.8 . $8. $5. $5. $4. $4. $4. $5. $4. $4. $4. $4. $4. $4. $4. $4. $4. $4

ΙΙ.

	3.	The sacramental between the visible sign and the invisible grace is understood in a variety of ways, from the one extreme in Roman Catholicism where 1 and 2 are identified, to the other, often associated with the name of the sixteenth-century Reformer Zwingli, that sees the relationship between 1 and 2 as purely symbolic." (Milne, 312)
	4.	"When correcting the superstitious abuse of the sacraments in Roman
	٠,	Catholicism, the Reformers stressed the need to preach the Word whenever
		·
$\sim$	D -	the sacraments are administered.
C.		ptism
	١.	The meaning of baptism
		a) "Baptism is a confession of faith in Christ (Rom. 6:3–4; 1 Pet. 3:21; Acts 8:37), associated with acknowledgment of Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour (Acts 2:38; 10:48; 8:16)." (Milne, 313)
		b) "Baptism is an experience of with Christ (Col. 2:12).
		The candidate is linked by faith with the Lord in whose name he or she is baptized, so as to enter in some sense into the very death and resurrection of Christ (Rom. 6:3–5)." (Milne, 313)
		c) "Baptism is a to living for Christ (Rom. 6:4–22). Thus careless living is seen as a denial of baptism.
		d) Baptism is a promise of consummation through Christ (Rom. 6:22). Like the Lord's Supper, it points us both back to the great events of the past, and forwards to our share in the future consummation of the kingdom, which we have already entered upon in our faith-union with Christ." (Milne, 314)
	2	Baptism and the church
	۷.	a) "In the NT period a Christian to a church was unknown, since a person's very response to the gospel in baptism would have brought him or her into the fellowship of a local company of Christ's _	people." (Milne, 313)
	3.	Baptism and the Spirit
		a) "A number of Scriptures indicate a link between water and Spirit baptism (Gal. 3:26f.; 1 Cor. 12:12; Acts 2:38)."
	4.	The proper objects of baptism
		a) Argument for baptism
D.	The	e Lord's Supper
	1.	Introductory Remarks
		a) "This second Christian sacrament, variously entitled Lord's Supper, eucharist, communion, breaking of bread, is rooted in the Last Supper, when 'on the night he was betrayed' (1 Cor. 11:23) Jesus instituted the supper as a continuing ordinance among his disciples." (Milne, 316)
	2.	The Roman Catholic view
		a) "In the mass, the elements of bread and wine, when duly consecrated by an apostolically ordained priest, are into the body and blood of Christ.
	3.	The Lutheran view
	٥.	a) "Luther rejected 'transubstantiation' and argued instead that the body and blood of Christ are present the elements of 4	bread and wine." (Milne, 318-319) The Twinglian view
	4	THE 7 VVII CHICH LIVEVV

		on is that the Supper is merely	" (Milne,
	319)	v.t.
	5. The Reformed		- f :- th C
			of in the Supper aith. While it is the whole Christ, fell on the spiritual and mystical gh the Holy Spirit. By the Spirit, the church is lit	ted up in the Supper to exper	rience fellowship with her glorified
	head and	Lord and enabled to feed on	him for the nourishing of her faith.'' (Milr	ne, 319)	_
III.	Prayer	•
		through prayer in the	e Old Testament
	В	prayed and taught us to p	prav
	C. The Apostles	us to pray	5. 5. /
	D. Prayer should be	со то рталу
	E. Prayer should be
	F. "It is the promise of	of Scripture that God	such prayer and is ays be quite in the terms we wish, s of our highest interest and the leep love for us." (Milne, 320)	s of our flightest littletest and the 11.7	•	leep love for us. (Millie, 320)
١٧.	Fellowship	there in the hady of Christis a	magns of means of grace to the people of God. God never intended the Christian life to be lived isolation; indeed, it is folly to attempt it (John 15:1–8; Eph. 4:1–16). " (Milne,
. ,	320-321)
٧.	Suffering
			ead and Lord, in particular in his
		$__$ and rejection (Luke 14:25-	–33; John 12:23–25; Rom. 8:17; Rev.
	1:9).
KE		IAPTER 26 - "THE CHURCH IN H	IISTORY"
١.	Forms of Organizatio	า
	A
	В.
	C	(independent)
	D.	,
ΙΙ.	Historical Perspective	 S
	A. The early centurie
	B. The Middle Ages
	C. The Reformation
	D. The modern perio	d
	1. Church and st
		nd secularization of culture
	3. Ecumenicalism
		nan Catholic Church
			ab!
111		anity and the 'Southern Churc	JT1
III.	The Church's Future						